

As technology changes it should be up to the marketplace to decide if they want to embrace new technology or remain with the old. If other organizations are having trouble competeing with emerging technologies they need to better or change thier service this is capatalisim. I urge you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 it should be up to Americans what programming they want not the government.